

Community Reading Group

Starts: Tuesday 24th
January and then
every Tuesday morning
10.30am - 12.00noon

Exeter Central Library
Hoskins Room, West Country Studies

For more information
please ring the library:
01392 384206

A chance to listen to great short stories and poems.
Share responses if you want to, and have a cup of tea.

Devon Libraries

www.devon.gov.uk/libraries

r
the reader organisation

Devon
County Council

Community Reading Groups

What is a Community Reading Group?

A small group of 2 -10 people who listen to stories and poems together.

How often and for how long?

It's once a week for up to 1 1/2 hours. Stay as long as you like.

What happens in the group?

People listen to poems and stories read aloud by a facilitator. We discover what it means to us and talk about it if we want to.

What kind of things are read?

A wide range of classic and current writing. We select quality works that explore powerful human themes.

Will I have to read?

No. You don't have to read to enjoy being part of the group. Some people like to read aloud, and that's fine too.

What would I get out of it?

People say different things; entertainment, pleasure of being read-to, a relaxing group, stimulating literature, tea and talk. People say they enjoy the company while doing something positive and meaningful, and it helps them think about things in new ways.

Do I come on my own?

Yes, if you feel comfortable with that.

What about carers?

Carers are very welcome to bring people to the door, or join in.

Anything else?

We hope you will give it a try.

Community Reading Groups and refreshments are free.